

PROFILE

Born on the 3rd of January in 2001 in Aleppo – Syria.

I'm A self-taught programmer, it all started with a friend of my mine who sent me a Python language course, and since then I loved the Idea of programming.

Because I see it as a powerful skill to have, it looks like you learn a certain programming language and all the sudden you can manipulate the machine to do whatever you want to do.

In simple words, with enough knowledge and certain creativity You can build whatever ideas cross your mind.

And that's magic!
